

To ensure that your hair extensions maintain their quality and continue to bring you joy for a long time, it is very important to care for them properly.

- ✓ For the care of hair extensions, you must purchase a special brush. Brush your hair several times a day, carefully combing the root area. This is especially important when the extensions have grown out slightly, as tangling may occur. When brushing the ends, always hold the roots with your hand to avoid damaging the attachment points.
- ✓ Always use a brush designed specifically for hair extensions.
- ✓ If your hair has been curled, it is advisable to brush it before washing.
- ✓ When going to the sea or visiting swimming pools, tie your hair up in a bun or ponytail after thoroughly brushing it. After swimming, обязательно wash your hair with shampoo and conditioner, as chlorine and salt water can permanently damage the structure of hair extensions.
- ✓ Sleep with your hair in a ponytail or loosely braided.
- ✓ You may safely use a tanning bed, but it is recommended to wear a head covering (hair may become dry).
- ✓ When visiting a sauna, be sure to wrap your head with a towel or wear a sauna cap — heat and sudden temperature changes can damage the attachment points.
- ✓ You may straighten your hair using a flat iron at a temperature not exceeding 180°C (356°F) and no more than twice a week. Avoid the attachment areas, as they may loosen. Always use a heat protection product before straightening.
- ✓ Hair extensions may be toned or dyed darker using ammonia-free hair dye. Bleaching hair extensions is strictly prohibited.
- ✓ Avoid sleeping with wet hair.

Washing Your Hair:

- ✓ Before washing, thoroughly brush your hair.
- ✓ Do not wash your hair with hot water; cool or lukewarm water is recommended.
- ✓ Wash your hair while standing in the shower or sitting in the bathtub (hair must remain in a vertical position). Washing your hair while bending forward can damage the roots.
- ✓ It is not recommended to wash your hair every day (if necessary, wash only the top section one day and the entire head the next day).
- ✓ It is recommended to use moisturizing shampoos, masks, and conditioners. To maintain hair quality, we recommend using professional hair care products.
- ✓ When applying shampoo, conditioner, or mask, avoid rubbing or tangling the hair — keep it as vertical as possible. Apply conditioner and mask along the entire length, especially to the ends, and leave it on for the time specified by the manufacturer. Rinse thoroughly, smoothing the hair with your fingers and separating the strands. Do not apply conditioner or mask to the attachment points, as this may cause the strands to slip.
- ✓ Avoid contact between the attachment points and chemicals, masks, or conditioners.
- ✓ If a strand falls out, keep it and bring it to your stylist for reattachment. If you experience any other problems, contact the stylist who installed your extensions immediately.
- ✓ After each wash, carefully brush the roots and the hair between the rows of tapes or capsules. If the roots are not brushed, tangles may form.

Brushing and Drying After Washing:

- ✓ After washing, it is advisable to keep your hair wrapped in a towel for a while to absorb excess moisture, which will shorten the drying time. After every wash, the attachment points must be dried with a hairdryer. Never dry all your hair together as you normally would. Otherwise, the top of your head will be dry while the attachment areas remain damp for at least 4 hours, which can cause the strands to slip.
- ✓ First, dry your fringe (if you have one). Then separate a section of hair from ear to ear. Dry the roots and attachment points first using a medium airflow, then dry the remaining hair. Only when the roots and the separated section are completely dry should you brush it. Carefully brush the root area. If the extensions are heavily tangled, start brushing from the ends and gradually work your way up while holding the roots with your other hand.
- ✓ Separate the next section (around temple level) and again dry the roots first, then the lengths, and only then brush the roots thoroughly.
- ✓ Do not brush wet hair, as it is very fragile.
- ✓ You may use mousse, hairspray, and gel.
- ✓ Please note that using curling irons, flat irons, and hot air from a hairdryer significantly shortens the lifespan of hair extensions.

ATTENTION!

- ✓ If after washing and blow-drying your hair is not smooth, silky, and lightweight, or if it becomes tangled, you must change your hair care products.
- ✓ Hair care products play a very important role in maintaining the quality of hair extensions — especially for blonde hair owners.
